ENVOYS READY TO RUSH ACTION ON TREATY OF PEACE

Public Opinion Prompts Delegates to Agree to Speed Up

URGE LUMP SUM BE ASKED AS INDEMNITY

Russian Problem Still Is Unsettled—Hearings Continue

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Feb. 18.—Some of the entente powers are planning as soon as the Russian problem now before the supreme council of the peace conference is disposed of and a few more hearings are accorded to representatives of small nations, to take up the larger problem of a treaty of peace. The state of public sentiment in America, England, Australia and Canada has impressed their representatives here of the necessity of taking steps to return the soldiers home, which cannot be accomplished entirely in advance of the conclusion of the peace treaty.

The French government is fully aware of this feeling and expresses its sympathy with the motives that underlie it, but there are fears of dangerous complications and failure to realize the necessary fruits of victory if there is undue haste in the conclusion of a peace treaty. France is insisting upon compliance with armistice demands for the return of much property taken by the Germans, principally industrial machinery. "This will take a long time and some of the entente countries believe it should not be permitted to delay the signing of the treaty."

Answering French objections that a long time may be consumed in arranging the boundaries of new states carved out of enemy territory, advocates of immediate peace declare that such readjustments as are necessary can proceed after the signature of the peace treaty. They say that Germany, Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria should simply be required to sign treaties relinquishing such parts of their former territories as are required to form new states and rectify old boundaries. It is held that it is no concern of those nations what disposition the entente, through peace conference committees, or the supreme council, makes of such territories.

The same powers hold there should be no delay because of indemnities. It is impossible to ascertain the exact detail of the damage inflicted during the war and they agree that lump sums should be paid by the enemy and placed in a fund on the basis of fairly comprehensive examinations already made by agents of the entente powers. Figures in possession of experts of the peace conference are believed to give a close approximation of the total damage Germany is able to pay. It is believed the armistice just concluded is not broad enough to be developed safely into a definite treaty of peace.

No feasible plan for settling the Russian question has developed during the two days of hearings given the subject by the supreme war council. The effort will be resumed today, but the weight of opinion in the council seems opposed to any plan involving the use of force or an extension of present military activities, even if the Prinkipo conference fails.

THREATEN STRIKE OF HUN WORKERS

Councils Protest Against Army Order Dissolving Soldiers' Committee of Seventh Army

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Berlin, Monday, Feb. 17.—Councils representing the whole Ruhr industrial district threaten to call a general strike on Tuesday if the government does not accede to the demands of the councils formulated at a conference held at Essen. The trouble is due primarily to the action of the general in command of the seventh army corps in dissolving the councils in all its districts because of the councils' anti-government attitude. The Ruhr district soviets called a central conference at which it was decided to demand the reinstatement of the councils in all its districts, the removal of the commander, General von Watten and his officers and their trial and punishment by a court to be established by the district soviets. The immediate withdrawal of all government troops in the district is also demanded. The conference named a committee to prepare defensive measures in the district and has retained as hostages two officers who attended the conference as representatives of General von Watten. The councils in the Ruhr district are virtually all in control of the Spartacists or the radical independent socialists.

PROF. EBAUGH'S MOTHER KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Left Newark Monday On Trip to See Son in Philadelphia

FAST PASSENGER TRAIN SIDEWIPED BY FREIGHT

Mother of Granville Man Only One To Lose Life

Mrs. P. W. Jones, wife of the manager and superintendent of the Buckeye Rolling mill was a passenger on the Pennsylvania flyer which was wrecked near Pittsburgh. She was in the car in which Mrs. Ebaugh of Granville was killed, but escaped injury. Mrs. Jones telephoned her husband last night from Pittsburgh.

Mrs. W. Calhoun Ebaugh, 50, mother of Prof. W. C. Ebaugh, head of the chemistry department at Denison University and wife of Dr. Ebaugh, was killed in a wreck of the fast St. Louis flyer, west of Pittsburgh Monday afternoon at 3:58. In the accident in which 8 others were seriously hurt, Mrs. Ebaugh was the only person to meet death.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Ebaugh left Granville Monday morning enroute to Philadelphia to visit another son.

According to the stories of the wreck the accident was caused when the tender of a work train on the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad jumped the track and sidwiped the east bound train, the fast St. Louis to Pittsburgh, at Sturgeon, 18 miles west of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Ebaugh's skull was fractured and she died instantly. Eight other passengers suffered serious injuries, numerous others suffered bruises and cuts and nearly 100 narrowly escaped with their lives. Five of the injured were from Ohio.

Quick action on the part of Fireman Mahon of the passenger train is said to have saved the lives of many passengers. He caught the signal from the fireman of the work train and threw on the air brakes, of the passenger train before the collision occurred.

The work train, having west bound around the curve just west of Sturgeon when the leading trucks of the tender of the engine jumped the track. The train was running at a speed of about 25 miles an hour and remained on the tracks, with the one truck of the tender jumping along the stone roadbed on the south side of the track. Fireman Craker saw the approaching express on the track next to the work train and called to Smythe. "There comes the passenger," Smythe had thrown on his air brakes and told Craker to try to signal the passenger train. Craker leaped far out of the cab of the work engine and frantically waved a stop signal. Fireman Mahon of the passenger, caught the signal, jumped across the deck of the passenger engine and threw on his air brakes. The passenger train was running at a speed of about 50 miles an hour. The tender of the work train struck the cab of the engine of the passenger and demolished it. Craker and Horn had extremely narrow escapes from death. The first car behind the tender was an express car containing 30 high-grade horses consigned to J. M. Burroughs of East Earl, Pa., from Cedar Rapids, Ia. The side of the express car was dented by the tender but the horses were not injured.

The tender then swung in toward the passenger train and the sides of the next cars were torn off completely. There were three mail cars behind the coach with the horses. The first passenger coach was a steel combination baggage and mail car. The side of it toward the tender was demolished but the passengers therein suffered only cuts and bruises. G. Idings of Chicago, in charge of the horses, was sitting on a front seat of this coach but escaped with only a slight bruise on his head.

The second coach, also of steel construction, received the full force of the impact of the tender. The entire side of that car was torn away. It was in this coach that Mrs. Ebaugh was killed. She was seated on the river side (north) of the car.

Dr. Ebaugh accompanied his wife. Dr. Ebaugh was across the aisle from his wife when the wreck occurred. Mrs. Ebaugh was crushed in the wreckage. Dr. Ebaugh, after ascertaining that his wife was dead, gave his attention to the care of the injured. A woman hurt had just left a hospital after undergoing an operation. Dr. Ebaugh knew of this and gave her immediate attention. The body of Mrs. Ebaugh was brought to Pittsburgh on a relief train. The wreck and arrangements were made to send it to the home in Philadelphia.

Prof. Ebaugh came to Granville when the fall semester opened and took charge of the chemistry department. He spent fourteen years previous to that time in Utah. Since coming to Granville his mother and father have been with him. He left at once for Philadelphia and funeral services will probably be held there.

Mr. Whitcamp was assisting in carrying viands to the dumb waiter when he fell with a coffee urn, the scalding liquid covering his right side. His right hand was cut, and his arm and leg were badly burned. Dr. J. S. McClure who was attending the banquet attended him and he was sent to his home in West Main street.

COUNCIL KILLS GAS ORDINANCE; OPPOSES INCREASED CAR FARE

Mayor Atherton Tells Council New Municipal Court Will Cost $10,000 a Year and Asks Reconsideration of Bill—Asks Fund For Soldiers' Celebration

Council last night refused to grant an increase in the price of gas to the Newark Natural Gas & Fuel company. The ordinance to grant the increase was laid on the table by unanimous vote of the members. Council also indicated that it would not act favorably upon the proposed increase in car fare asked by the Ohio Electric for the city lines. An ordinance introduced making the fare 6 cents, or nine tickets for 50 cents, was the occasion for several hot shots against the company. The ordinance had its first reading.

A great deal of time was taken up at the reading of the reports of several departments, giving the statistics of the business of the past year and when Clerk Hamilton finished cough lozengers would have been a welcome relief. The public safety committee—Messrs. Baker, Faust and Redman—in answer to the petition of 300 business men of the city, recommended that the Central fire station be equipped with a 65-foot aerial ladder truck, one combination truck, and 2000 feet of new fire hose. The members of the committee all spoke in favor of their recommendations and paid a number of compliments to the fire ladders.

The director of public service reported that work on the new water line for the Wehrle factory would start at once and that several streets would be graded and cindered.

The report of Service Director J. Edward Wilson for the year 1918 was then submitted. It showed that the disbursements had been $36,838.86, and the receipts from building permits, rents, miscellaneous, etc., $2,524.26.

During the year there has been 486 miles of streets graded and cindered and 4844 square yards of paving repaired. There has been 765 miles of asphaltic concrete paving done at a cost of $25,664.68.

There has been considerable trouble with the sewer on Hudson avenue, but this has been eliminated by purchasing a sewer-cleaning machine at a cost of $600 and placing a flood-gate at Log Pond run. This sewer-cleaning machine is being used on all the main sewers.

A Ford truck has been purchased for the line department of the light plant. The receipts from Cedar Hill cemetery were $23,132.97 and the expenditure was $18,462.72—leaving a balance of $4,670.25.

During the year there has been 486 burials and 178 lots sold—the largest number for any previous year.

A connection with the Central fire station is very much needed at the engine house so that the engineer in charge will know whether there is a fire and can watch the water pressure, as the pumps are not run during the day, but depend on the reservoir for the supply.

The report of Taylor Kussmaul, superintendent of water and light, was quite lengthy and explanatory regarding the system. It showed receipts of $74,825.21, and disbursements of same amount, which included $20,294.19 in hands of sinking fund trustees, $2,067.25 balance in water fund and $54.75 cash on hand in October, January 1, 1919.

The report gave the expenses and plant revenue statement showing a total of $137,357.51.

The expense and plant revenue statement shows a net gain of $11,351.28 for 1917, leaving a difference of $6,777.74. This can very easily be accounted for if the difference in the operating conditions for the last two years is considered.

A great deal of work for the betterment of the plant has been done in the distribution system, made at a total cost of $4,254.10. The results from this survey have been astonishing. Our pumpage has been reduced from between three and four million gallons per day to about two million. The report then goes lengthily into statistics showing the reduction in coal consumption during the year.

The disbursements for the light plant were $11,837.22, and the total kilowatt cost, $3,418.67—the total cost per kilowatt being 2.62.

The 610 lamps in the city, which average over 250 candle-power each, cost per lamp for 1918, $25.14. Zanesville is paying 35 per year for each 250 candle-power lamp.

Superintendent Kussmaul states in concluding his report, "Although we are able to increase the load on the turbine our kilowatt cost would be greatly reduced as the labor and overhead charges would be the same."

City Engineer Arch S. Allen submitted his report for 1918, showing that 78 of a mile of street paving had been completed; 98 miles of sewers, 50 miles of sidewalks, and no water mains laid.

Health Officer Dr. W. H. Knauss submitted the annual report of the board of health, showing that there had been 6793 cases of influenza the past year, 623 births and 495 deaths. He also submitted a communication relating to the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

BORAH DECLINES PRESIDENT'S BID

Will Not Attend Dinner at White House Because of Opposition to League of Nations

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Feb. 18.—Senator Borah of Idaho, has asked to be excused from attending the dinner at the White House at which President Wilson will discuss with members of the foreign relations committee of congress the constitution of the proposed League of Nations.

In a letter to Secretary Tumulty, Senator Borah said it was the custom to hold in conference any information received at such a gathering, and that he was not willing to be bound to silence on such an important subject on which he and the president disagreed fundamentally.

He added that nothing could make him agree with the constitution of the league as it now stood.

White House officials said no other member of the committee had declined the president's invitation, and that it was understood all the others would accept.

On receiving the Idaho senator's letter today, Secretary Tumulty immediately transmitted it by wireless to President Wilson aboard the transport George Washington on his way home from France.

Senator Borah is one of a group of senators, which includes some democrats as well as republicans who oppose any sort of internationalization and whose opposition to the league as proposed has been regarded as a foregone conclusion.

The dinner has been arranged for Wednesday evening, Feb. 26, a day or two after the President lands at Boston.

Tribute in the senate, which has been expected to break out at any moment in spite of the President's request that it be withheld until after his meeting with the committee, probably will begin tomorrow.

Senator Poinceter of Washington, republican, has an address which he expects to deliver tomorrow and Senator Borah and several others are preparing to speak.

GRANGES TO AID OHIO CITIES IN GETTING RELIEF

Leader Says Farmers Not Opposed to Exceeding One Pct. Limit

FAVORS LAW PERMITTING VOTE ON EXCESS RATE

Toledo Men Criticizes the House Temperance Leader's Action

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Feb. 18.—The statement of L. J. Tabor, master of the Ohio State Grange, before the joint taxation committee last night that the grange is not opposed to local taxing districts exceeding the tax limitation of the Smith law, provided it is by a vote of the people and for a definite purpose and a definite time, gave city members of the legislature reassurance today in their program for relief of cities.

Tabor said the position of the grange taxation had been much misunderstood. "We are in favor of retaining the principle of the Smith law, but we are also in favor of the people being allowed to assess themselves for what they want," said Tabor. He suggested an amendment to the Smith law which would permit local taxing districts upon a vote of the people to raise revenue to wipe out debts which he declared, were in themselves, a tax.

Tabor said the grange was radically opposed to classification of property and would "fight it to the very limit," he said. The grange feared it would mean additional burdens on real estates.

Tabor said the grange favored a graduated tax on motor vehicles, an inheritance tax and an income tax.

Chairman C. C. Crabb of the house temperance committee was sharply criticized by Lieutenant L. M. Sullivan of Toledo, secretary of the Soldiers and Sailors Suffrage league this morning when he led a delegation of 13 members of the organization to Columbus to protest against pending prohibition enforcement legislation. Crabb found that meeting of the committee had been arranged.

A joint meeting of the house and senate committees has been arranged for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning to hear the soldiers. Lieutenant Sullivan said the main objection of the soldiers is to the emergency feature of the proposed bills as it would prevent a referendum on the measure.

HOUSE TAKES UP ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Feb. 18.—The house resumed consideration of the army appropriation bill today with a sharp contest in prospect over the provision for a temporary army of 100,000 men for the coming year. Opponents of the temporary army provision, which was inserted in the bill at the request of the war department officials planned to attempt its elimination by parliamentary tactics. Representative Humphreys of Mississippi, Democrat, gave notice Saturday that he would make a point of order against the provision on the ground that it is legislation and therefore has no place in the appropriation bill. "This is the first time a military committee has been instructed by committee members yesterday to apply for a rule making the provision in order in event the point of order is raised and sustained."

SMITH TAKES OATH OF OFFICE TUESDAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Feb. 18.—Secretary of State Elihu Root took the oath of office at 2:30 this afternoon. He handed in his resignation as probate judge of Muskingum county to Governor Cox shortly before noon and received his commission as Secretary of State.

Smith called on the retiring secretary, George B. Fulton, the outgoing secretary, and they made arrangements for turning over the office. Fulton says he has no future plans and expects to take a vacation. He said he had not decided whether he would return to Newark, or to his native Columbus.

It was stated at the governor's office that Smith's successor as probate judge of Muskingum county probably will not be made before tomorrow.

Columbus Guests Attend Dinner Given By Newark Kiwanis

VICE GOVERNOR OF STATE CLUBS GIVES ADDRESS

Wives Are Honor Guests at Dinner Given at the Masonic Temple

Good fellowship and association as promulgated by the creed of the Kiwanis club was evidenced last night when with a membership of 56 the local organization, was formally presented with the charter at an elaborately appointed banquet arranged for the occasion.

As the guests of honor, the women, were invited and numerous members of the Columbus club were in attendance and the presentation was made by Edmund F. Arras, vice governor of the Ohio Kiwanis clubs.

The dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock, a perfectly appointed menu of eight courses being served. The long banquet tables were centered with willow baskets filled with potted plants and cut flowers in the pastel shades, and festooned with sunflowers. The favors were carnations in pink and white for every guest, while the hall was draped with the American flags, and pertinent paragraphs attractively placed entertained the guests.

GRANVILLE WILL HONOR HASKINS YANKEE AIR HERO

Granville Aviator Wearing Croix de Guerre, to Return to Village After Service Abroad.

(Special to the Advocate.)
Granville, Feb. 18.—The Buxton House is displaying Old Glory in anticipation of the home coming of Lieutenant Joe Haskins, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Haskins, who has been flying over the battle front in France with the 96th aero squadron. A telegram from Camp Hill, Va., notified them of the landing at Newport News, and a later telegram apprised them of the air man's departure for New York. Immediately Lieutenant Haskins, Haskins, his younger brother, now finishing his college course in Denison, left for the metropolis where he had wired a mutual friend to hold Joe until he arrived on Sunday. The exact hour of the return to the old home town is not known. An effort is being made to have flags wave from every house on Broadway in honor of Licking county's air man, who has two enemy planes to his individual credit, who has been cited for valor, decorated with the Croix de Guerre, and who for the honor of the squadron has been in 22 air raids beyond the German lines. The "Joe" was a bombing squadron and capital in some of the heaviest fighting of the past year and a half. During a raid the aviators had to fight most of the way out and every inch of the way back, always against superior numbers. Only six members of the squadron escaped. Lieutenant Haskins, in the 22nd raid, on one occasion he returned with several shots in his machine, on another he volplaned six miles with an injured engine, but he has seemed to bear a charmed life, always keeping his poise and always managing to land safely. Lieut. Haskins graduated from Denison in 1912, and received his Masters Degree in O. S. U. for research work in chemistry. He was employed in the Western Electric company in Chicago, and on being informed that he would not be allowed to leave that department for service, he resigned and returned to Granville for enlistment in the air service. Only the circumstance of his being placed in a bombing squadron prevents home folks acclaiming the home coming of an "ace", who is yet one of the heroes of the air.

KIWANIS CHARTER

Newark has been placed upon the telephone directory of the Kiwanis clubs of America, and when they needed help all they had to do was to call any number, day or night, and they would be answered.

As president of the local club, W. W. Gard responded. He said he accepted the charter and felt that every Newark man was fit and that the membership was 100 per cent. He told of the recent war, how the losses of the allies at the early spring drive had brought home to every man a lesson. How it brought him closer to home, family and religion, and that when the idea of the Kiwanis club with its good fellowship was offered he did not hesitate.

Miss Bertha Dooney, a well-known vocalist, then sang a composition, which had an attractive swing and which was secured from Witmark & Sons for the occasion. It was "Have a Smile," and Miss Dooney gave it delightful rendition and before the conclusion the entire company was singing the refrain.

Eddie Ewald, introduced as the premier minstrel man, met with instantaneous favor with his song number and clever dancing. He was forced to many encores. Kirby Dickerson gave a flute solo, but refused to take an encore, and Fred H. Adams, of the vaudeville team of Adams & Adams, entertained the diners. He gave a clever "conservation" song, composed by his brother, and responded with a dialect number.

D. R. Denton of Columbus, who possesses a pleasing voice, honored Eddie Ewald, when he sang a song dedicated to him and composed by Dick Brun of the E. H. Bryant Tractor company. The whole gathering then sang a Kiwanis song, written by Edmund Arras, to the air of "Old Black Joe." Geo. Fenberg, of the Auditorium theater, accompanied all the song numbers.

An informal talk was given by B. C. Watson, of Watson, Softer & Davis, of Columbus, and president of the Columbus club. The keynote was that since the war is over even greater things are expected of business organizations. He counseled the members if they need any work to do it now, to help the unemployed situation and right the country, and not to wait to save dollars. Other speakers were: Homer C. Gill, former president of Columbus; Edmund Arras, who gave his "Boost for Columbus," on request, and Rev. Geo. Bohon Schmitt, newest member of the local organization.

The meeting concluded with the singing of "America" by the company.

The local officers to whom credit is due for the splendid program and success of the event are: President W. W. Gard, Vice President Charles Wyeth, Secretary Walter Bowers, Treasurer Frank Windle, Toastmaster Earl Woodward.

JOHNSTOWN MAN ON TRIAL FOR SECOND TIME

In common pleas court on Tuesday the court and jury were engaged in the trial of Forest Reed, charged with attempting to enter the dwelling house of Stephen Sinkey, near Johnstown, with intent to commit a felony. The offense is alleged to have been committed in June, 1916. This is the second trial of the case, the supreme court having reversed a former judgment of conviction.

After hearing the evidence, the court sustained a motion to direct a verdict of not guilty. The defendant was discharged.

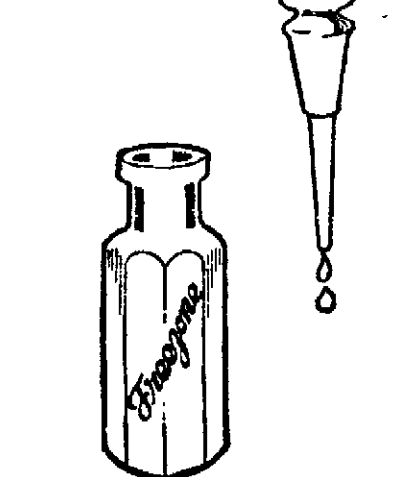

In the case of the Peoples Market company vs. George Weisart, et al., a suit brought to recover upon an injunction bond given upon the issuing of a restraining order and temporary injunction, the court made an order allowing plaintiff certain items of expenses incurred in the conduct of the litigation.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers—No pain!

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

COUNCIL KILLS

keeping of hogs within the city limits, stating that it was not illegal, but that there were restrictions, and that they must be at least 200 yards from a house.

A communication enclosed a petition to council, signed by 57 residents of Jones street, stating that a neighbor had been keeping his hogs in such a manner that there could be no complaint made against him. This was in answer to a complaint against the man by several other neighbors at the last meeting of council.

A protest against the extension of Central avenue was presented which was signed by 10 property owners who would be effected by the extension. A communication asked that Columbia street be opened between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets.

Council accepted an invitation for its members and the city officials to attend the opening of the new South End fire station and public hall on next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A communication from Secretary Harry E. Goodbread of the public utilities commission stated that the lighting of the grade crossing at Oakwood avenue would be investigated at once.

Henry Richardson in a communication requested that Kibier avenue be opened up from Maple avenue to Third street.

The Ohio Police association asked the assistance of council in securing state legislation looking towards a pension system for the police and fire departments.

An ordinance by Councilman Knauber was introduced and passed under a suspension of the rules which materially increases the license for a circus which charges more than $1 for general admission and reserved seat, making it $150 per day, instead of $50—the present license fee. It also raised the license for carnivals to $100 per day.

An ordinance by Councilman Newkirk, changing the rate to be charged by the Ohio Electric and Newark Gas utility lines, making the rate for Newark city tickets 6 cents, or nine tickets for 50 cents. Councilman Newkirk apologized for introducing the ordinance stating that he did so at the request of a representative of the company who wished to get the matter before council. Several members then took a "trap" at the company.

The gas rate ordinance was given its third reading and each member voted unanimously in favor of laying it on the table.

The following resolutions were adopted under a suspension of the rules: By Faust—Discarding the unsightly traffic signs at Second, Third and Fourth streets and replacing them with suitable traffic poles.

By Faust—Directing the public service director to grade and cinder a number of streets.

By Faust—To abate the nuisance at the intersection of Elizabeth street and Kibier avenue by the construction of a sidewalk.

Under the head of miscellaneous business, Mayor Atherton addressed the council on the proposed bill relating to the establishment of a municipal public ship for Newark. He stated that the bill as at present in Representative Graham's hands at Columbus, would provide for a coast with an estimated cost of $16,000, and in his opinion the bill should be reconsidered. The mayor also requested financial assistance for the committee arranging the celebration for the homecoming of the soldier boys.

Wm. Dummer on behalf of the house men of the Arcade annex, asked that the nuisance of permitting garbage wagons to stand in the annex be abated and that the operation of automobiles and taxicabs be regulated so as to avoid accident and possible loss of life. This was referred to the safety director.

Councilman Fisher moved that the service director be instructed to use the street flusher after which the committee appointed to meet with the directors of the Licking County Agricultural society relative to the securing of Mound bank's park for a city park, made its report and council adjourned.

The principal feature of the day was a splendid address by Frank L. Beggs on the objects of Rotary.

An outline of the memory classes conducted last week by Mr. Curran was given by the chairman and several of the twenty Rotarians who constituted the three-day school and an explanation of the purpose of the "Bring 'Em Back" clubs was given. ## You're getting a June Style in a February Maxwell

THE MAXWELL car of today is so vastly improved in appearance that many persons believe we have produced a new model. That is not the case.

It is the same chassis, scarcely with a change, on which 300,000 Maxwells have been built.

- But it is a better looking car. It is finer in finish; angular lines have been straightened out; fenders improved; bonnet simplified; cowl made flush with the top line of the body; seats thickened by three inches; circassian dash installed; gas tank slung in the rear, etc.

There are twenty-four things done to make it more beautiful.

We made the Maxwell simple to start with five years ago. Then we kept on making and making these cars all alike. We have now completed 300,000 of them.

There is logic in doing one thing and doing it well. We have followed that logic. And results tell today.

Maxwells have always been noted for their reliability. Now they will become noted for their beauty.

And today we are in a position to give you a June style in a February Maxwell, which a year ago seemed quite out of the question on account of the war.

Come and see the latest Maxwell.

TWO celebrated race drivers and a millionaire pilot of high speed race cars, will be seen in action with the running of the world's greatest automobile racing classic over the historic Indianapolis Speedway, May 31st.

Cliff Durant is the only millionaire actually racing cars on the big speedway in the United States today. In order that he may increase his chances of winning the Indianapolis classic and the fat purse that goes to the winner, Durant has secured the services of that sterling pilot, Eddie Pullen, who has a long list of victories to his credit, the most noted of which is the world's road racing record of 87.7 miles per hour, which he established when he won the Grand Prize at the wheel of a Mercedes car over the Santa Monica course in 1914. Pullen also won at Tacoma in 1912, and in 1915, he also finished second sat behind the steering wheel of a big racer. "Smiling Ralph" as Mulford is known among the racing fraternity, originally sprang into fame as the driver of a Lozier, winning the 1910 road racing championship with this type of car, and capturing the Vanderbilt Cup race the following year. He also was the runner up in the first Indianapolis 500-mile race, giving Ray Harroun, the winner, a real battle for first money. Mulford was forced to change a tire near the finish or he probably would have won had this not occurred. As a race driver, Mulford displayed most of his skill in the big road races when that form of automobile racing was popular in America. With the lightly constructed and speedy Frontenacs, Mulford may surprise the doers by cutting a big figure in the running of the Liberty Sweepstakes classic on May 31.

Indian Who Meets Bowser Wins Fame as Rapid Worker on Wrestling Mat.

Paul Bowser this evening completed a strenuous course of training for his match with Chief Manton at the Auditorium theatre tomorrow evening. Bowser is aware that he is up against a tough proposition for the Indian has met some of the best men in the country and defeated them too. He has a reputation of some after his man from the lay of the going and keeping after him every minute. He secured his reputation after he had met and defeated some of the chummy mat artists of the country and was the only man to ever defeat Pat Brown in his home town of Tulsa, Okla. He has many others on his scalp belt and states that he expects to return with that of the Newark middleweight champ.

The curtain raiser promises to bring together two very fast light weight fighters. Ed Miller of Tulsa, weighing 126 pounds, a Greek lad weighing 122 lbs. is said to be very clever and although outweighed will give a good account of himself, and it is well known that Miller is a corner.

Bill Galt will meet Elmer Moon, catch best two falls in three to win, with a time limit of 20 minutes. Both men have their followers and it's going to be a hot match and the going will be fast. Gallagher is a favorite among the local wrestling fans, and Moon catch has won a half dozen matches with a number of good men this season at Hemiok, O., where he is a great favorite.

Then comes the whirlwind welter-weight, Leslie Fishbush, and his opponent, who has been his weight, 137 pounds, can put his shoulders to the mat. Fishbush has been classed as a phenom and he is truly deserving of the title. He will meet Chief Cru, also 137 pounds, and one of the greatest fighters ever seen on a local match scheduled when the two last met as a chief is no slouch and is said to be one of the best 135 pound boys on the road. He travels with Chief Manton and has been giving a good account of himself.

Scouts are now selling at the Auditorium box office and there are still a few good ring-side reservations left.

CONDITIONS AT BREST.

The blackest blot on the history of America's part in the great war, will be the story of the embarkation camp at Brest, judging from reports brought to this country by returning troops and civilians.

Official color was given the reports of the awful conditions at the camp when Senator Owen, who returned yesterday from a trip abroad, declared in New York that the camp is unfit for cattle. "They say Brest is better than it was," said Senator Owen. "If that be true, God pity those who were there before conditions were improved," he is quoted in press dispatches as saying. Senator Owen cut his trip short that he might return to America and try to improve these conditions.

Soldiers have related how they were compelled to sleep in the mud, with nothing between them and six inches of muck but their army blankets.

A Newark man, Carlos Hanks Jr., suffered an attack of pneumonia on ship board after three weeks of this kind of existence and was very near to death's door before he landed in New York.

A Mt. Vernon boy with the 330th regiment, landed in New York with a heavy cold which developed into pneumonia and scarlet fever after he reached Camp Sherman. He was buried at Mt. Vernon Monday. His comrades told his widow, a bride of one year, that he was compelled to wade in mud knee deep to get to his tent.

These are a few of the conditions to our attention near at home. They certainly are not exceptions to this rule. The officers certainly are cognizant of conditions and to permit them to exist is not only an ungrateful act to the young Americans who offered their lives for their government but is almost criminal negligence.

Neither the soldiers nor their friends expected luxuries in the army, nor did they overlook the fact that there would be disagreeable and dangerous hardships to contend with during the war and while at the front. But the war is over and there certainly is no longer any reason why America's brave troops should be compelled to risk their health in such conditions as exist at Brest.

There are nearly a million men yet in France. Each one and every one a missionary and the nation will doubt exert a great influence to future conditions at home. It would be only human nature if these soldiers remembered the few weeks they spent shivering in the mud of Brest.

The express companies complain that many packages are damaged and dress 1. Perhaps the public has been imitating the style of a soldier frequently seen on the streets, with the shippers.

It only costs as much to hire a bear for a twenty minute job now as you used to pay a man for a whole hour.

PRESIDENT AND HIS CRITICS

Anyone who is reading the dispatches from Europe must be tremendously impressed with what President Wilson is accomplishing over there.

First, take the general idea of a league of nations. Six months ago that was generally held as a dream of the poets and the philosophers. President Wilson's utterances in its favor were denounced by the majority of the Republican leaders.

With remarkable persuasive power President Wilson has been able to win over objectors. The league is already formed. About the only opposition left is among a small section of Republican reactionaries in this country. Mr. Wilson is certainly showing fine tact and great skill in his dealings with the statesmen of Europe. The conference is bristling with thorny questions. Yet its proceedings are going along with remarkable lack of friction. Whatever debates may be proceeding on the inside, yet cordial feeling has prevailed. These terribly vexatious questions of boundaries and conflicting rights seem likely to be settled harmoniously.

The League, if successful, means a longer step ahead than has been taken since the Christian era began. And the first credit for the practical work of forming this organization must go to Mr. Wilson. He has been foremost in silencing objectors obviating difficulties, defining its functions and operations in a practical manner.

Mr. Wilson's great achievement is due to the belief of the common people of this country, and of the allied countries, in his honesty, sincerity, and concern for the welfare of the world's great working masses. This support has enabled him to speak with a power and a following that have compelled assent from the politicians.

VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN.

(Christian Science Monitor.)
Preparations are being made for floating the United States new Victory Liberty loan in April, and details of the bond issue may soon be announced. It is a daily becoming more evident that this loan should be strictly a matter of business. The terms should, it is contended, be such as to make it entirely attractive as an investment, regardless of the patriotic element which characterizes the notation of the four preceding loans.

Since the armistice was signed there has been a steady sagging in the market price of Liberty bonds, the last 4 1/2 per cent bonds having touched a new low mark within a few days. The reason for this is that, with an aggregate issue of bonds amounting to $17,000,000,000 floated by the United States government since its entrance into the war, it has been impossible, in the comparatively short time, for a complete absorption of the securities to take place.

One of the most common reasons for selling Liberty bonds has been the fact that other securities in the market offered a larger yield on the investment. The market prices of the various issues of Liberty bonds have declined to such an extent as to make them, at the present quotations, exceedingly attractive as investments. It is altogether probable that there is heavy buying of them by savings banks, trustees of estate and leading institutions, and by capitalists.

The Liberty bonds are simply in competition with other securities in the money markets. There is no other reason to be given for the fact that the new Liberty 4 1/2 per cent bonds have dropped well under 94 for a hundred-dollar bond. At 94 these bonds yield a return of about 4 1/2 per cent to the investor. The yield on the Liberty 4 1/2 per cent bonds is about 5 per cent.

Although nothing definite has been decided upon as to the terms of the coming issue, it has been proposed that it shall consist of two classes, one taxable and the other free from tax. It is estimated that 4 per cent may be the rate for the tax-exempt portion, and 5 per cent for the taxable portion. Whether these terms would be sufficiently attractive or not, it should be remembered that, in the end, it is the taxpayers who must foot the bills. If a larger interest rate is agreed upon, it will mean that a larger amount must come out of the taxpayers' pockets to meet interest payments, and consequently the taxpayers should have an influential voice in determining the amount of interest which the new bonds are to carry.

The present quotations of Liberty bonds in the market may be safely taken as an indication of the taxpayers' opinion in the matter. There is no question that the bonds are wanted, but further consideration must be given to the fact that they must be paid for in cash, and it is certain that some day they will show that the public has a higher appreciation of them as investments, but that day is in the future. It is the present situation that must govern the action of the treasury authorities if they are to make the coming issue a success.

EXCHANGING PULPITS.

(One State Journal.)
The meeting just seems not only to have been a success, but it is an amalgamating rehearsal. The Rev. C. C. and last Friday, David Wilson of the Euclid Avenue Temple, addressed a mixed Jewish and Christian congregation at a revival meeting at White Park Methodist Church, in which he said that the principles of the church are fundamentally the same. And further he remarked:

It is only when the reasonable and the practical are denied that men demand the unreasonable and impractical; only when the possible is made difficult that they fancy the impossible to be easy.—James Russell Lowell.

Whilst we were a-standin' in front of a cage a-lookin' at a animal which it said 'Kangaroo' on it, a man come up an' stood there quite a spell a-lookin' an' at last he says, soft-like, "Kangaroo," he says. Then he turns to Zeke an' says, "Do you happen to no where that thing comes from?" he says, an' Zeke answers up real important-like, "This one's an Australian, I believe," he says. An' the man turned rite pill an' says he, "Land o' Goshen! My sister married one o' them," he says.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

(Philadelphia Record.)
The League of Nations, whose constitution is made public from Paris, is an organization of such an epoch-making character, and covers so many points of supreme importance to the world and civilization, that it is impossible to deal adequately with it without a more careful study than is possible in a limited space of time. In general it may be said that it seems to conform pretty closely to the forecasts that have been made. Emphasis is placed upon moral forces co-operating to exert pressure upon a nation threatening wars rather than upon a centralized army, such as France is supposed to have favored. The constitution may thus be said to reflect the views of Great Britain and the United States rather than those of the countries which have clung to the old diplomatic methods of avoiding international disputes.

Interest will center largely in Article 8, which deals with the reduction of armaments and the suppression of private manufacturers of munition of war, such as the Krupp, Articles 11 and 12, which treat of the prevention of war; Article 16, which deals with the financial and economic measures to be taken against a nation that disregards its cov- enants; and Article 19, which takes up the disposition to be made of the German colonies and those parts of Turkey which are to be freed from Moslem control and made independent. For these the plan of mandatories is to be followed.

A first reading shows no features that seem to present serious difficulties to a practical application of the principles adopted, or which lay any serious burdens upon the high contracting powers. Certainly the experiment proposed for leading the world away from its old worn-out paths is one well worth trying.

The League of Nations is, of course, but one feature of the peace terms to be imposed upon Germany and its fellow-belligerents. It may be assumed, however, that in the adoption of this revolutionary new principle of preventing future wars much of the work of the peace conference has already been accomplished. In what has been achieved so far the American people may take a just pride in the leading part taken by their representatives at Paris.

DOCUMENT TO BE STUDIED.

(Out-Guard Gazette-Times.)
The covenant or constitution reported by the Society of Nations commission of the peace conference is an inconceivably compact document. It would have to be that, to be sure, to have secured the approval of representatives of such diverse interests as have been contingently committed to its provisions. Here and

And Other Prostrating Diseases That Exhaust the Strength.

There is always a depleted condition of the blood, that extreme tired feeling, nervousness and digestive weakness from which recovery is slow unless a good medicine is taken.

The lack of red corpuscles in the blood makes it too thin properly to nourish the body, and the general prostration, anemic humors, leads loss of appetite and poor digestion prevent progress towards health.

Hood's Sarsaparilla meets these conditions perfectly, as many people know. It has proved the greatest blood purifier, analyzing medicine. Nothing else is so good as Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is made from a formula comprising pure ingredients often used by the physicians for impure blood, scrofula, rheumatism, weakness. Truly it purifies the blood and makes the weak strong. For a fine family cathartic, take Hood's Pills.

Alas, alack to think that I from peaceful rest must thus take flight, long hours before the eastern sky shows even one tiny streak of light, to bump my nose and bark my shin and cuss to beat the very earth, with a sickly sort of grin I vainly try to strike a match and when at last the flame flares up this thought comes oozing from my brow, oh how I'd love to soak the pup who first framed up this measly law. —I. "Your Nose Knows"

The Encyclopaedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco, "... on the Continent and in America certain 'sauces' are employed ... the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves." Your smoke-enjoyment depends as much upon the Quality and kind of flavoring used as upon the Quality and aging of the tobacco. Tuxedo tobacco uses the purest, most wholesome and delicious of all flavorings—chocolate! That flavoring, added to the finest of carefully aged and blended burley tobacco, produces Tuxedo—the perfect tobacco—"Your Nose Knows."

Public Should Demand Original NUXATED IRON

Physicians Warns Against Danger Of Accepting Substitutes—Says

That Ordinary Metallic Iron Preparations Cannot Possibly Give The Same

STRENGTH, POWER AND ENDURANCE
As Organic Iron—Nuxated Iron

The remarkable results produced by Nuxated Iron and its widespread sale (it being estimated that over three million people annually are today using it) has led to the offering of numerous substitutes, and these physicians mentioned below say that health officials and doctors everywhere should caution the public against accepting substitutes for Nuxated Iron, as these substitutes instead of being organic iron may be nothing more than metallic iron compounds which in some cases produce more harm than good. Those who feel the need of a strength and blood builder, should go to their family doctors and obtain a prescription calling for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and present this to their druggist so that there may be no question about obtaining the proper article. But if they do not wish to go to the trouble of getting a prescription for Nuxated Iron then they should be sure to look on the label and see that the words NUXATED IRON are printed thereon.

There are thousands of people taking iron who do not distinguish between organic iron and metallic iron and such persons often fail to obtain the vital energy, strength and endurance which they seek simply because they have taken the wrong form of iron. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength and see how much you have gained.

Manufacturers' Note: The widespread publication of the above information has been suggested by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital, (Outdoor Department New York and the Westchester County Hospital; Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author and others so that the public may be informed on this subject and protected from the use of metallic iron under the delusion that it is Nuxated Iron or at least something as good as Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron, is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists. Unlike the older, inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by Wm. A. Erman, Evans' Cut Rate Store, The Mykrantz Pharmacy and by other druggists.

Vital force is the material from which leaders in all walks of life are made. It is well worth getting and holding.

CENSUS TAKEN BY DENMARK

Little Kingdom Counts 2,920,000 Inhabitants, an Increase of 163,000 Over Figures of Five Years Ago.

Very few European countries have been in a position to proceed, since August 1, 1914, with their normal quinquennial census. Denmark is one of the exceptions. On February 1, 1918, the little kingdom counted 2,920,000 inhabitants, i. e., an increase of 163,000 souls over the census of 1911.

The distribution ratio is 75 inhabitants to the square kilometer. The Copenhagen Frederiksberg county contains 605,000 inhabitants, i. e., more than one-fifth of the total population. The 74 other cities number 604,000 people. Rustic population, 1,711,000.

The three principal cities, besides Copenhagen, are: Aarhus, 66,000; Odense, 45,000; and Aalborg, 38,000. The present war increased the importance of the seaport town of Esbjerg (19,000 inhabitants), which hardly existed 50 years ago.

The "Why" of the Swagger Stick.
These cute little "swagger sticks" that officers in uniform are carrying on the street are the reverse of military in their appearance, says the Boston Transcript. Odd little affairs, sometimes not more than a foot and a half long and more suggestive of effeminacy than of masculine swagger. The swagger stick, as nearly as its origin can be traced, came from England, where, in days of piping peace, the soldier's very tight dress uniform made it almost impossible for him to dispose of his hands when walking about off duty, and it apparently became necessary for him to have something to carry and twirl. In England the private soldier carries a swagger stick as well as the officer. They are incongruous with khaki. But put a tight, red tunic on a man and a guy little pill-box on the side of his head, and the stick becomes logical enough. However, swagger sticks are not carried in the trenches.

Learn to Rule the Spirit.
There are very few of us but have reason to know that a well-ruled spirit would have saved us a world of sorrow. Dickens, that reader of the human heart, touches upon this point with quaint simplicity when he makes Mr. Meagles mildly suggest to his daughter's maid when her fits of passion came on, "Count ten, Tattycoram," and when they were unusually violent, he pleads: "All I ask of you, dear child, is to count twenty-five." If we would quench fires of passion, a pause, a silence, may change the whole course of events and save a lifetime of misery.—McClure's Magazine.

Convicts Make Good in Road-Building.
The investigations of the national commission on prisons and prison labor into the reliability of convicts at work on roads and farms shows that the vast majority of the sane and able-bodied men now confined in penal institutions, if properly handled, can be depended upon to perform the tasks set for them without the slightest fear of their escaping. In Colorado prisoners in six large camps are constantly employed in the construction of roads.

Purchasing in Season.
With fruits and vegetables the price is often determined by the season. A vegetable out of season is much more expensive than one in season, but it is no more nutritious. In order to purchase to best advantage, the housewife should understand such things and should also be familiar with general market conditions.—Exchange.

Things are not always what they seem. The legislature that passes bad bills isn't necessarily made up of counterfeits.
No, Maude, dear; the fact that a man has been a shipping clerk all his life wouldn't qualify him for the navy.

AUDITORIUM.

"The Forbidden City."

During the making of Norma Talmadge's latest Select Picture, "The Forbidden City," which is now being seen at the Auditorium theatre, the studio in New York took on a very Oriental air. In order to give the proper atmosphere to the picture, P. L. Yuan, the best informed expert on Chinese history and customs in America, was engaged for research work. Mr. Yuan also supervised the making of all costumes and scenic effects.

Among the more prominent members of the company are several Chinese actors who are widely known in this country, including Charlie Fung, the Chinese screen comedian, Lee Way, another well-known Oriental actor, is also in the cast, while Sun Kim, a celebrated stage star in his own country, is making his first appearance on the screen in this production.

Large crowds were attracted to the Auditorium yesterday to see this won-

Seats for the "Charley's Aunt" engagement at the Auditorium, Thursday went on sale at the box office this morning and met with a steady demand all day. It must be confessed that a visit to the Auditorium on Thursday will prove most exhilarating. By all means see "Charley's Aunt," the comedy with music, and then you may count to your credit an evening of frankly unguaranteed mirth. It is without doubt the funniest play ever produced in this or any other country.

Audiences fairly shake with merriment at the genuine article and not a few rock and roll in their seats like small boats in a choppy sea. "Charley's Aunt" is in every sense a popular success. From first to last, "Charley's Aunt" is just the sort of thing to make life rose-colored. There are just enough pauses in the merriment to give the ## Mothers! Read the Signs!

If you will learn to give Cascarets, the candy cathartic, to your children, instead of castor oil, calomel and pills, you will save money, and avoid lots of worry, coaxing and sickness. Truly!

When one of the kiddies has a white tongue, a tainted breath, sour stomach or a cold; when bilious, constipated, feverish, remember, a sweet candy Cascaret to quickly "work" away the nasty bile, sour fermentations and poisons should always be the first treatment given.

Children really love to take candy Cascarets and they never gripe the tender bowels, never injure, and never disappoint the worried mother. Give Cascarets to children one year old and upwards. Each 10 cent box contains full directions for children and adults.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

Dandruff Surely Destroys The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

LONG WAITS FOR SHIPS AT BREST

Men Are Mobilized Too Long Before Ships Are Ready, Senator's Wife Declares.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.

New York, Feb. 18.—There are "too many men and too few ships" at the embarkation camp at Brest, according to Senator Owen, who returned from abroad Monday. He said that "despondency and homesickness are evident wherever one goes. One in four committed suicide while I was there."

"Officers are doing their best," he added, "to cope with the many difficulties. The government must organize employment bureaus and get these soldiers back into civil life as quickly as possible."

Senator Owen, who is chairman of the senate committee on banking and currency, and his wife who accompanied him, attributed much of the trouble to "bad climatic conditions" at Brest. They said they saw American soldiers standing in rain and mud for hours awaiting their food. Personally they could not themselves find even a place to sleep.

Senator Owen said that the first thing he intended doing was to inform Secretary Baker of the conditions and the attitude of the soldiers on coming home from what he called a "horrible hole." He declared that "any one who advocates a correction of conditions is doing a charitable and Christian work."

"They told us over there that Brest is better than it was. If that is so, God help those who were there when it was worse."

Mrs. Owen confirmed all her husband's statements.

The senator and Mrs. Owen, who have visited London, Paris and Madrid, and who contemplated remaining longer abroad, cut their visit short, and in order that they might "report to Washington the deplorable conditions existing at Brest."

"The trouble over there," said Mrs. Owen, "is that they order men from place to place when some of them are unfit to travel. Thousands of these men have been piled into Brest before the ships are ready to take them aboard. It is rainy and misty there almost every day, the men are crazy to get home and the weather conditions aggravate their homesickness."

Politics and the Farm.

Some years ago the private car of former President McKinley stopped in the early morning at a little country town. The president, looking out of the window, saw a barefooted boy drive up a cow from the ground where he had reclined during the night that he might stand on the spot warned by the animal's body. "How often I have done that same thing," remarked the president to the members of the presidential party, a number of whom were United States senators, whereupon to his surprise he discovered that nearly every individual present claimed formerly to have been a barefooted farm boy and to have had the same experience.

The calamity howler will tell you the only possible way to make money nowadays is to get a job in the mint.

ONE OF THE BEST SELLERS

More Than Half a Million Copies of General Robert's "Rules of Order"

Have Been Sold.

Robert's "Rules of Order" might well be classed as one of the best sellers. More than 550,000 copies had been sold at the time of its last revision in 1915. Probably not many persons know it was written by a military man, and even fewer know that its author had to pay for the printing of the first 4,000 copies of it, says the Kansas City Star.

Gen. Henry M. Robert of the United States army, completed the debate text-book in 1876. When he submitted the volume to a publishing house it came back to him with the pages uncut.

The publishers informed General

Robert that they did not understand how a military man could be expected to stand as an authority on parliamentary practice. So General Robert had 4,000 copies printed at his own expense and distributed them in 40 states. Soon the demand was so great that a publishing firm gladly took over the contract for printing more.

"I might have answered the publishers at the start that of all the men

I know, military men are the most anxious for orderly ways out of strife, and care least for conflict," General

Robert said. "Military men, as I have known them, want trouble less than any. Soldiers do not make wars. Civilians do it."

SPILLED HIS POT OF PAINT

Otherwise Steeplejack Was Unruffled

After Fall of Fifty Feet From

Roof to the Sidewalk.

Some persons may fall from a chair and get killed. Others may fall from a church steeple and merely spill a pot of paint. In the latter class is Frank

Atkinson, a steeplejack.

While painting the steeple of a church in Philadelphia Atkinson fell from the steeple to the roof of the building, rolled down the steep slope to the eaves and fell to the sidewalk, nearly fifty feet below, just missing an iron piling.

Before his assistants could reach his side Atkinson was on his feet.

"Boys," he said, "you had better clean up that mess," referring to the spilled paint.

His only injury was a sprained wrist.

The steeplejack says he will now join the aviation service. Climbing church towers is becoming too dangerous for him.

Some Prussian Orders Cheap.

Mention in the recent debate on the enemy princes bill in the British parliament, that Lord Middleton possessed the Prussian Order of the Red Eagle, led that nobleman to intervene with the remark that when it was offered to him he wished to decline it, but was forced to accept it. It is cheap, and for this reason coveted by the Prussian bourgeois, whereas the Order of the Black Eagle is almost as exclusive as the English Garter. Red Eagles are allotted generally in January, along with other similar distinctions, at a festival of orders, which includes a truly democratic banquet where the chancellor may find himself sitting side by side with a station master, or even his local postman. In the January before the war some 7,000 orders were handed out at this annual festival, no fewer than

1,200 of which were of the Red Eagle brand.

Making Change by Electricity.

A newly patented system for receiving coins has just been put on the market in New York. This system is intended for use in hotels and apartment houses. It is designed to permit the occupant of a room or apartment to pay for small purchases which come to the downstairs office without leaving his room and to get change to pay small debts at his own door without sending out for it. In each room there is a box containing receiving and delivery slots for nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars. Each room box is electrically connected to a central switchboard in the hotel office. Every coin dropped into the box is automatically recorded at the central switchboard and the operator can make change if necessary by pressing a button.

Brigadier General at Twenty-Eight.

The war has seen some rapid promotions, but probably the most rapid is that of B. C. Freyberg, who, at twenty-eight years old, has been gazetted temporary brigadier general. Born in New Zealand, Freyberg was twice wounded in Gallipoli, where he won the distinguished service order for swimming ashore in the Gulf of Saros

OFFICER'S VALUE TO ARMY

Ability to Lead Men With a Minimum of Loss Is What Counts in Modern Business of War.

Three months of the hardest application, that any of these young men has ever known, then, is the price they pay to become officers, says Frederick

Palmer, writing in Collier's Weekly of the officers' training camps. Those who cannot stand up to it will not get their commissions, and some of them will be sore, no doubt. Their parents and friends will register complaints.

That is only human. But the system must be stronger than any individual.

The system realizes the enormous responsibility of making an officer who will be worthy to lead men in action with skill in the grim, mercilessly

scientific business of modern war which means a minimum of loss to the army in any undertaking. The ledger of that business reckons its profit and loss in casualties. A poor employee in business loses the firm's money. A poor officer loses lives unnecessarily for his country. Every one of those rookie officers and every recruit of the selective draft, when he grows weary of the grind, may inspire himself with this thought:

"Proficiency in all these things that are being taught to me means that some soldier will owe his life to my capable direction. It means that my company will get the trench it storms with small loss, instead of being thrown out under the spray of machine guns at great loss."

WHAT MAKES THE DIFFERENCE

Punch, Faithfulness, Capacity and Inclination for Work Said to Determine Worker's Salary.

In an interview with Darwin P.

Kingsley, a writer in the American

Magazine, reports:

"Suppose you explain, Mr. Kingsley, some of the differences between the

$1,000-a-year and the $5,000-a-year man."

"Punch, faithfulness, capacity for work and inclination for it," returned the life insurance president, "make up the yardstick which measures most differences in salary. It's not at all difficult to spot the youth who has the makings of a winner.

"The $5,000-a-year man, to begin with, is always on the job. He is too busy to watch the clock. He is likely to be quicker at his work than the man at the next desk, and he is always looking for more things to do.

In a roomful of clerks, the man who is always asking for heavier tasks doesn't have to ask for promotions."

The Utulation.

"Ah!" said the daughter of a hundred New England somebody. "How

I should love to visit the boundless

West!—it is boundless, isn't it?—and go to sleep listening to the coyotes howl! You can hear the coyotes howl in Kansas City, can't you?"

"Not all the time," responded the young man from the mouth of the Kaw: "You see, where my tent is located there is often so much fuss being made by lynchers, cowboys, Indians and stage robbers about the time

I go to sleep that I cannot hear the

REAL REVOLUTION IS YET TO COME, SAYS SOCIALIST

Tells the German Assembly Past Disorders Were Only Artificial.

ASSAILS FINANCE MINISTER AS ENEMY TO SOCIALISM

Minister Tells the Germans What War Cost Nation In Money.

Weimar, Saturday, Feb. 15.—The German revolution last November was an artificial one and a "real revolution" is still to come, Hugo Haase, Independent Socialist leader, declared in the German national assembly today. The form of the revolution to come, he declared, would depend upon the acts of the present government.

Haase attacked the government and aroused outbreaks from other members by his vituperative argument. Upstairs were constant throughout his speech which was chiefly a repetition of old Independent Socialist charges against the government. Haase assailed the program of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the foreign minister, and declared that it lacked the slightest element of Socialism. He insisted categorically that the former emperor had decided on war nearly a month before the outbreak.

The German people generally do not understand yet clearly the financial situation in which the war has left them and they are too optimistic, declared Dr. Schiffer, the minister of finance, in an address to the German national assembly today. He apparently astonished the house when he gave the statistics to show that the war had cost 181,000,000,000 marks.

Dr. Schiffer then asked the assembly to vote a credit in the form of a loan for 25,300,000,000 marks, the greatest loan the German people ever have been asked to raise. He explained that last October the government stood on the verge of financial exhaustion. It asked for a credit of 15,000,000,000 marks, but when this was refused, raised it by means of bank note issues. The speaker was applauded when he remarked that through this openness should be the basis of all politics and finance.

The finance minister said that the expenditures exceeded by 14,000,000,000 credits which had been granted. Credits made available by loans totaled $3,000,000,000 marks and bonds and notes issued totaled $5,000,000,000 marks. The daily expenditure during the war, Dr. Schiffer added, ranged from 49,000,000 marks in 1914 to 135,000,000 in 1918. The minister explained that there had been a steady decrease in expenditures since the signing of the armistice.

The minister condemned the waste throughout the war and characterized the war finances as "a total dereliction." He said that the soldiers' and workmen's councils since the war had at times been accused unjustly, but unfortunately too many councils were not of advantage to the government financially.

He said that the government would need 19,000,000,000 marks during the current year to cover interest payments alone. He said the government expected to raise 3,000,000,000 marks from the sale of army stores. This sum might have been greater if the stores had not been pillaged by the troops.

No one was in a position to say whether Germany would be able to extricate herself from the present financial situation, the finance minister said, but it would depend in part on the kind of peace the allied powers decided upon.

"Our expenditures have increased not only because of our needs, but because of bad financial measures during the war," the minister said. "On the assumption of a short war considerable sums were wasted in enriching individuals improperly. In addition the war program of Field Marshal von Hindenburg was deplorable from an economic point of view, because of the manner in which he dissipated money. At the conclusion of the war unjustified strikes resulted in an insane struggle for higher wages, thus increasing the expenses of demobilization."

FRENCH WAR COST IS 182 BILLION FRANCS

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, Sunday, Feb. 16.—The financial situation of France is being given serious attention by various committees and groups of the chamber of deputies, where it will be the subject of an interpellation at an early date. France's war expenses are expected to reach a total of 182,000,000,000 francs, with resources to meet it of 158,000,000,000 francs, showing a deficit of 24,000,000,000 francs. These resources comprise 18,000,000,000 francs from taxation; 54,000,000,000 francs from four war loans; 20,000,000,000 francs advanced by the bank of France, the product of short-time treasury bonds together with advances made by allies and credits opened in foreign countries.

In addition to the 24,000,000,000 deficit, there are exceptional expenses such as compensation to civilians for war damage, which is placed in moderate estimates at 10,000,000,000 francs; the cost of exchanging the German mark currency of Alsace-Lorraine, 2,300,000,000 francs; the repayment of
